ABOUT ANITA

Hi, I'm Anita Peckham, founder of Bounce Basketball!

With over 35 years of experience in basketball as a player, coach and parent, and having founded Bounce in 2011, I'm passionate about introducing young children to the game I love.

I believe basketball is about so much more than learning to dribble and shoot. It's about building confidence, developing coordination, making friendships and learning to be part of a team.

My goal is simple — to make every child's first experience with basketball a positive, fun and memorable one!
